The Daily Courant.

Tueſday, March 30. 1703.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated March 29.

Madrid, March 9.

THE King being a Hunting in the Neighbourhood of this City, on Monday laſt, fell from his Horſe; and tho' we are told he got no great Hurt, yet by the Advice of his Phyſicians his Majeſty has ſince kept his Chamber. Cardinal d'Etrees continues to adminiſter the Affairs of this Monarchy joyntly with Cardinal Portocarrero; tho' no more than is judg'd neceſſary is communicated to the latter: And generally every thing is regulated according to the Orders of the King of France, to whom Couriers are ſent continually for his Directions. The Duke of Alva has accepted the Commiſſion of Ambaſſador to the Court of Frauce, after ſeveral Perſons of Note had refus'd it. The Son of the Count de Palma is made General of the Horſe in Catalonia, notwithſtanding he is but 20 Years old and unskill'd in the Art of War; but the valuable Conſideration is his Uncle the Cardinal de Portocarrero's Complaiſance in ſuffering this Government to be new modell'd by that of France. The Advices from Cadix and Seville inform us, That the News of the King's having appropriated to his own uſe between 6 and 7 Millions of the Money ſav'd out of the Galleons, caus'd no leſs Conſternation in thoſe Cities, than the firſt Report of thoſe Galleons being taken or deſtroy'd at Vigo by the Engliſh and Dutch. The Chamber of Commerce of Seville, has made new Inſtances to his Majeſty on that Subject, repreſenting to him, that the Perſons intereſted in that Flota muſt be utterly undone, unleſs he remit part of what he has ſeiz'd; but the King excuſes himſelf from yielding to their Remonſtrances, by urging the Neceſſity of employing that Money in maintaining the War. The Duke de Medina Celi, who interpos'd his good Offices with the King in behalf of the Deputies of the Commerce, finding no redreſs could be obtain'd, laid down his Preſidentſhip of the Council of the Indies, that he may not be liable to the Conſequences of this Affair, which cauſes great Diſcontents. 'Tis ſaid, The Chamber of Commerce lay claim to 3 Millions more of the Silver and other Effects ſav'd out of the Galleons; in conſideration of a like Sum which they advanc'd for the publick Service in the Preceding Reign and this.

On Wedneſday laſt, The Members of the Council of Caſtile gave into his Majeſty's Hands, their Concluſions relating to the Amirante of Caſtile, ſeal'd up. The Sentence they have paſs'd on him is not made publick; Mean time 'tis ſaid, that Nobleman is condemn'd for his Diſobedience to perpetual Baniſhment, and that all his Eſtate is confiſcated to the King, which yet after his Death is to be reſtored to his Heirs: But that he is acquitted of the Crime of High Treaſon, which was part of the Charge againſt him.

From the Harlem Courant dated March the 29th.

Madrid, March 8. Monſieur de Renaut a French Ingenier, is gone to Cadiz, the King has made him Surveyor of the Fortifications, and Margazines of Ammunitions and Proviſions in Andaluſia. Not only the Coaſts of Andaluſia will be put into a State of Defence, but thoſe likewiſe of Galicia and Biſcay; to which end Ammunition and Proviſions are ſent into thoſe Parts. The Council of Italy has publiſhed an Order prohibiting all the Subjects of this Crown in the Mediterranean to ſell Corn to any but the French; and the Tranſporting of Wool out of this Kingdom is forbidden with the like Reſtriction.

From the Amſterdam Courant dated March 29.

Amſterdam, March 28. Letters from Cadiz of the 26th of February, Tell us, The Merchants of that Town were in a mighty Conſternation at the Reſolution of the Court of Spain touching the Silver ſav'd at Vigo; That the Commerce had proteſted againſt it, but receiv'd Anſwer that the King was under a preſent Neceſſity of ſuch a Sum but for the future would burthen his Subjects as little as poſſible; notwithſtanding which, another Expreſs on the ſame Subject is gone to Madrid, tho' no better Succeſs is expected from it; and now every one is prompt to remark, that the King being led by French Councils will not leave ſqueezing the Purſes of the Spaniards till he has drain'd the Nation of all its Treaſure; The Arrival of a new Order from Madrid commanding the Houſekeepers, each according to their Ability, to quarter Soldiers in their Houſes, and ſubſiſt them till their Pay be remitted to them, affords freſh Matter for ſuch Reflections; they are likewiſe charg'd with a Capitation; againſt both which the City has proteſted, and written to Madrid for Relief. Theſe things have put the People into ſuch a Ferment, that they threaten loudly as they walk the publick Streets, to take Vengeance on thoſe who have introduced ſuch Orders.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated March 31.

Vienna, March 18. Some of the principal Noble-Men of Bohemia are willing to lend the Emperour a large Sum of Money at 6 per Cent. Intereſt. And the Lordſhips of Bregenz and Feldkircken are to be diſpos'd of for another Sum of 1200000 Guilders, which laſt Affair will be negociated by the Heer Andler, who is gone to Kempten about it. Count Koningſeck, a Lieutenant General, is come hither from Prince Lewis of Baden, and has repreſented, that that Prince could not attempt the Relief of Fort Kehl with ſo ſmall a Force as he had drawn together. The Loſs the Imperialiſts ſuſtained in the late Fight with the Bavarians, is the cauſe of ſending towards Bavaria the 6000 Foot which were deſign'd to recruit our Army in Italy. The Prince of Porcia is getting ready to go Ambaſſador to Moſcow, and Major General Ogilvy has leave to go into the Service of the Czar.

Dartmouth, March 26. On Wedneſday laſt came in here the St. Joſeph of and from Genoa, with Oyl and Fruit for London. On Thurſday came in here the Swift of this place from Guernſey, and brings advice, that before he came thence, a French Merchant Ship of St. Maloes was brought in there, and reported, That all the Privateers of that place had been taken ſince the War began ſave two.
